

A stylized, colorful illustration of a man with a beard and a raised fist, surrounded by a vibrant, abstract cloud of colors. The man is depicted in a dynamic, almost heroic pose, with his right arm raised and fist clenched. He has a long, grey beard and is wearing a dark, possibly leather, garment. The background is a bright, abstract cloud of colors, including shades of blue, green, yellow, orange, and red, which gives the impression of a powerful, energetic force. The overall style is reminiscent of a digital painting or a graphic design.

To the hon. justices of the Brazilian Supreme Court,

Considering the new evidence presented by the news website The Intercept Brasil, conversations between then judge Sérgio Moro and the prosecutors of the Lava Jato (“Carwash”) task-force, which effectively demonstrates how the former judge behaved as the informal head of the investigations and the Federal Public Prosecutor’s Office, acting by means of advice, reprimands, and guidance, giving them inside knowledge of his upcoming judicial decisions, hints to alleged proofs, and determining in which order the prosecutors and the police should proceed in their investigation. Everything occurred through the use of an instant messaging application and face-to-face meetings.

[illegible]